PROCESS

TypeFocus is a leading developer of online personality type resources. Established in 1997, TypeFocus is currently used by organizations across the world, including schools, employment agencies, colleges, universities and corporations.
TypeFocus has supplied accurate career development assessments to over 1 million clients over 20 years.

THE FACILITATOR

Fawn Nielsen is a Certified Career Development Practitioner in the province of British Columbia. She has utilized the work of Dave Wood for several years. Fawn is passionate to help individuals become more self aware, learn how to resolve conflicts, how to use their strengths in leadership, professional and personal development; how to discover their best career!

WORKSHOP (6 HOURS)

2 Half Day workshops, Tuesdays 9am – Noon (PST).
Clients should plan for ongoing independent career exploration.
Participants will become aware of their own personality type and how to utilize their strengths and grow areas of weakness.

WHO ARE WORKSHOPS FOR?

Individuals wanting to find and/or change their current career will find support and tools to start the process.
Professionals wishing to be trained in TypeFocus and those who have purchased a licence agreement.

WHAT TO EXPECT?

Clients looking for work will discover which careers best suit their individual strengths through three interactive career assessments. They will narrow their search from thousands of career choices to a few dozen and become confident that they are on the right track.

Clients will be provided with an overview of their type and how to recognize strengths and areas of weakness they wish to improve.

Facilitator will incorporate strategies for conflict resolution, effective communication with other types in the workforce, networking and how to plan and leverage successful career growth.

BENEFITS TO SERVICE AGENCIES

- Multiple career assessments such as personality, interests, values and skills will help clients understand themselves better.
- Based on these assessment results clients will discover which occupations suit them best. Narrowing the search saves time, money and effort for everyone,
- Clients not only discover where they want to go, but they also create a plan on how to get there.
- Improve your success but leveraging the client's newfound confidence. Utilize this smart approach to help them land a job that matches their strengths and how to use their strengths to continually move forward in their career.
- Make employers glad they hired your client by placing them in jobs that will guarantee their success.
- Use additional tools in the TypeFocus platform to keep clients on task in areas such as networking, work/life balance, how to identify in-demand jobs and how to manage their career growth.
