PROCESS

TypeFocus is a leading developer of online personality type resources. Established in 1997, TypeFocus is currently used by organizations across the world, including schools, employment agencies, colleges, universities and corporations.
TypeFocus has supplied accurate career development assessments to over 1 million clients over 20 years.

THE FACILITATOR

Fawn Nielsen is a Certified Career Development Practitioner in the province of British Columbia. She has utilized the work of Dave Wood for several years. Fawn is passionate to help individuals become more self aware, learn how to resolve conflicts, how to use their strengths in leadership, professional and personal development; how to discover their best career!

WORKSHOP (6 hours)

6 HRS (2 Tuesdays, 9AM – 12PM)
Clients should plan for ongoing independent career exploration.
Participants will become aware of their own personality type and how to utilize their strengths and grow areas of weakness.

WHO ARE WORKSHOPS FOR?

Individuals wanting to find and/or change their current career will find support and tools to start the process.

WHAT TO EXPECT?

Clients looking for work will discover which careers best suit their individual strengths through three interactive career assessments. They will narrow their search from thousands of career choices to a few dozen and become confident that they are on the right track.

Clients will be provided with an overview of their type and how to recognize strengths and areas of weakness they wish to improve.

BENEFITS TO CLIENTS/INDIVIDUALS

Through our program, clients gain:

- Insights into themselves; knowledge that will help them develop rewarding relationships in career and in their personal lives,
- How to identify satisfying careers based on their own interest, passion and strengths.
- How to leverage their strengths and identify areas to develop.
